

Playdough

Learning objectives

- Unblocking
- Encouraging non-verbal communication

Number of participants

Minimum: 6

Duration

15 minutes or more, depending on the size of the group

Material

Posters; markers (several different colours)

Description

The participants sit or stand in a circle. The team asks them to imagine playdough, with which each person can shape an object or an animal. The others have to guess what is being represented and name it. The team directly translates the propositions. The standard question used during the activity („What is this?“) is repeated in the different languages in order to be memorized. In the end, the words can be written and translated on a large flipchart poster.
